150 in the Great Hall, 70 in the adjoining Music Room and 80 in the Dining Room

STEP INSIDE THE PALACE

If you require something stately then the Grade II listed Georgian Mansion may be exactly what you are looking for. This opulent and very grandiose Palace is perfect for Wedding receptions and Private Events hosting a range of beautiful rooms which you can incorporate into your big day including Licensed Ceremony rooms, dining rooms, lounges, changing rooms and reception areas.

Empire Room

Imagine getting changed in the Empire Room before walking down the aisle into the Winter Garden, our ceremony room. Then celebrate with your drinks reception and canapés in the Morning Room and have photos taken in our manicured gardens overlooking the Surrey countryside. Soon you'll be holding your wedding breakfast and evening reception in our Great Hall, which will transform into a dance floor for the night.

Honeymoon Suite

Sleeps 2
1 Double Bedroom
2 Bathrooms
Walk-In Wardrobe
Powder Room

This recently refurbished elegant suite is nestled within the heart of Addington Palace offering the perfect setting for your first night together. Beautifully furnished, it features a spacious bedroom, two bathrooms, a light-filled powder room and a generous walk-in wardrobe. A luxurious retreat in every sense, quietly indulgent, discreetly grand.

Two additional, recently refurbished, guest bedrooms within the Palace are also available, allowing your nearest and dearest to stay just moments away.

Winter Garden

Ceremony Capacity | 150

This Pavilion was originally designed as a Smoking Saloon for the gentlemen, but was later converted into a Winter Garden or Conservatory, probably by Archibald Howley. This bright and airy room now functions as our dedicated ceremony room seating up to 150 guests.

THE GREAT HALL

Ceremony Capacity | 200

We're undecided whether Norman Shaws centrepiece is the beautiful alabaster and marble chimney piece or the magnificent brass French Chandelier. Equally impressive are the walls adorned with silk coverings and the beautiful hand-carved architrave.

FEAST LIKE A KING

Invite your guests to step into the exquisite ambiance of the Great Hall, the heart of the Palace constructed by renowned Scottish Architect Richard Normal Shaw. With a Banqueting capacity of 150, the Great Hall will make your guests feel like Royalty.

Richard Norman Shaw | 1831-1912

Morning Room

From 1778 this room was named the Parlour and from 1835 the Morning Room. Its purpose from then until now remains the same- to receive guests visiting from afar. A great gambit for reception drinks and canapés.

MANICURED GARDENS

The parklands surrounding Addington Palace were enhanced by Lancelot 'Capability' Brown, a renowned English Landscape Architect of the 18th Century credited as "England's Greatest Gardener". His works are highlighted on the terrace by a majestic 250 year old Cedar of Lebanon Tree.

Lancelot 'Capability' Brown | 1716-1783

A KING, A QUEEN & EVERYTHING IN BETWEEN

Holding your special day at Addington Palace will guarantee you a unique wedding at a venue steeped in history

1544

Henry VIII sold Addington Park Estate and manor house to Sir Nicholas Leigh, the original Medieval Manor House in Addington Village became the Leigh family residence for 200 years

1740

Became subject to a 40 year legal battle for ownership

1770-1778

Barlow Trecothick, Alderman of London and Lord Mayor in 1770-71, purchases house and land. Trecothick employs Robert Mylne to design and build a grand Palladian mansion. After Barlow Trecothick's death in 1775, the Palladian Mansion was completed by his nephew James Trecothick, who later employed Capability Brown for extensive landscape works

1907

Act of Parliament passed allowing purchase and upgrading of the house for the Archbishops of Canterbury as a country residence. The former Arch- bishop's palace was sold to raise the money. Five of the former archbishop's are buried just down the road in St. Mary's churchyard

1914

Vacant house was used by the Red Cross

1953

Venue used as The Royal School of Church Music (RSCM)

1996

Became a popular wedding, conference and banqueting venue complete with the Country Club.

2002

Banquet for HM The Queen and HRH Prince Philip during the Golden Jubilee Celebrations

A VENUE FIT FOR A QUEEN

Addington Palace hosted a banquet for the auspicious Golden Jubilee Celebrations for the late HM The Queen and HRH Prince Philip in July 2002. With 300 guests in attendance, the 'great and the good' were treated to a culinary masterpiece here at the Palace. It was a truly spectacular occasion fondly remembered by all lucky enough to be in attendance.

FILMING LOCATION

Addington Palace's stunning rooms have provided the ideal backdrop for a range of films, television programmes, music videos and fashion shoots. Thus we've hosted a range of high profile celebrities including Brad Pitt, Ben Kingsley, Ralph Fiennes, Kate Moss, John Goodman, Rowan Atkinson, Chiwetel Ejiofor, Jacqueline Bisset, Brendan Gleeson... to name a few.
