STEP INTO SPLENDOUR

YOUR EVENT DESTINATION

Exclusive use | 12 miles from London | Events 300 | Dining 150 | Receptions 300 | On-site accommodation

Set within 163 acres of parkland, Addington Palace is a Grade II*-listed Georgian mansion of rare heritage and distinction. Once the private residence of Archbishops of Canterbury and host to royalty, the Palace now offers an exclusive setting for corporate events of scale and stature.

Just 12 miles from central London, this private estate combines timeless grandeur with complete exclusivity. Designed to host conferences, dining and receptions for up to 300 guests, Addington Palace is where exceptional events begin.

SUMMER EVENTS

Outdoor events at the heart of the Palace

Across the Palace grounds and surrounding estate, a series of outdoor spaces provide a refined setting for summer events and company gatherings of scale. The South Lawn offers flexibility for larger occasions, while open views across the estate create a striking backdrop for guests and hospitality throughout events, with capacity for large-scale entertaining and setups, allowing a natural flow between spaces across the day.

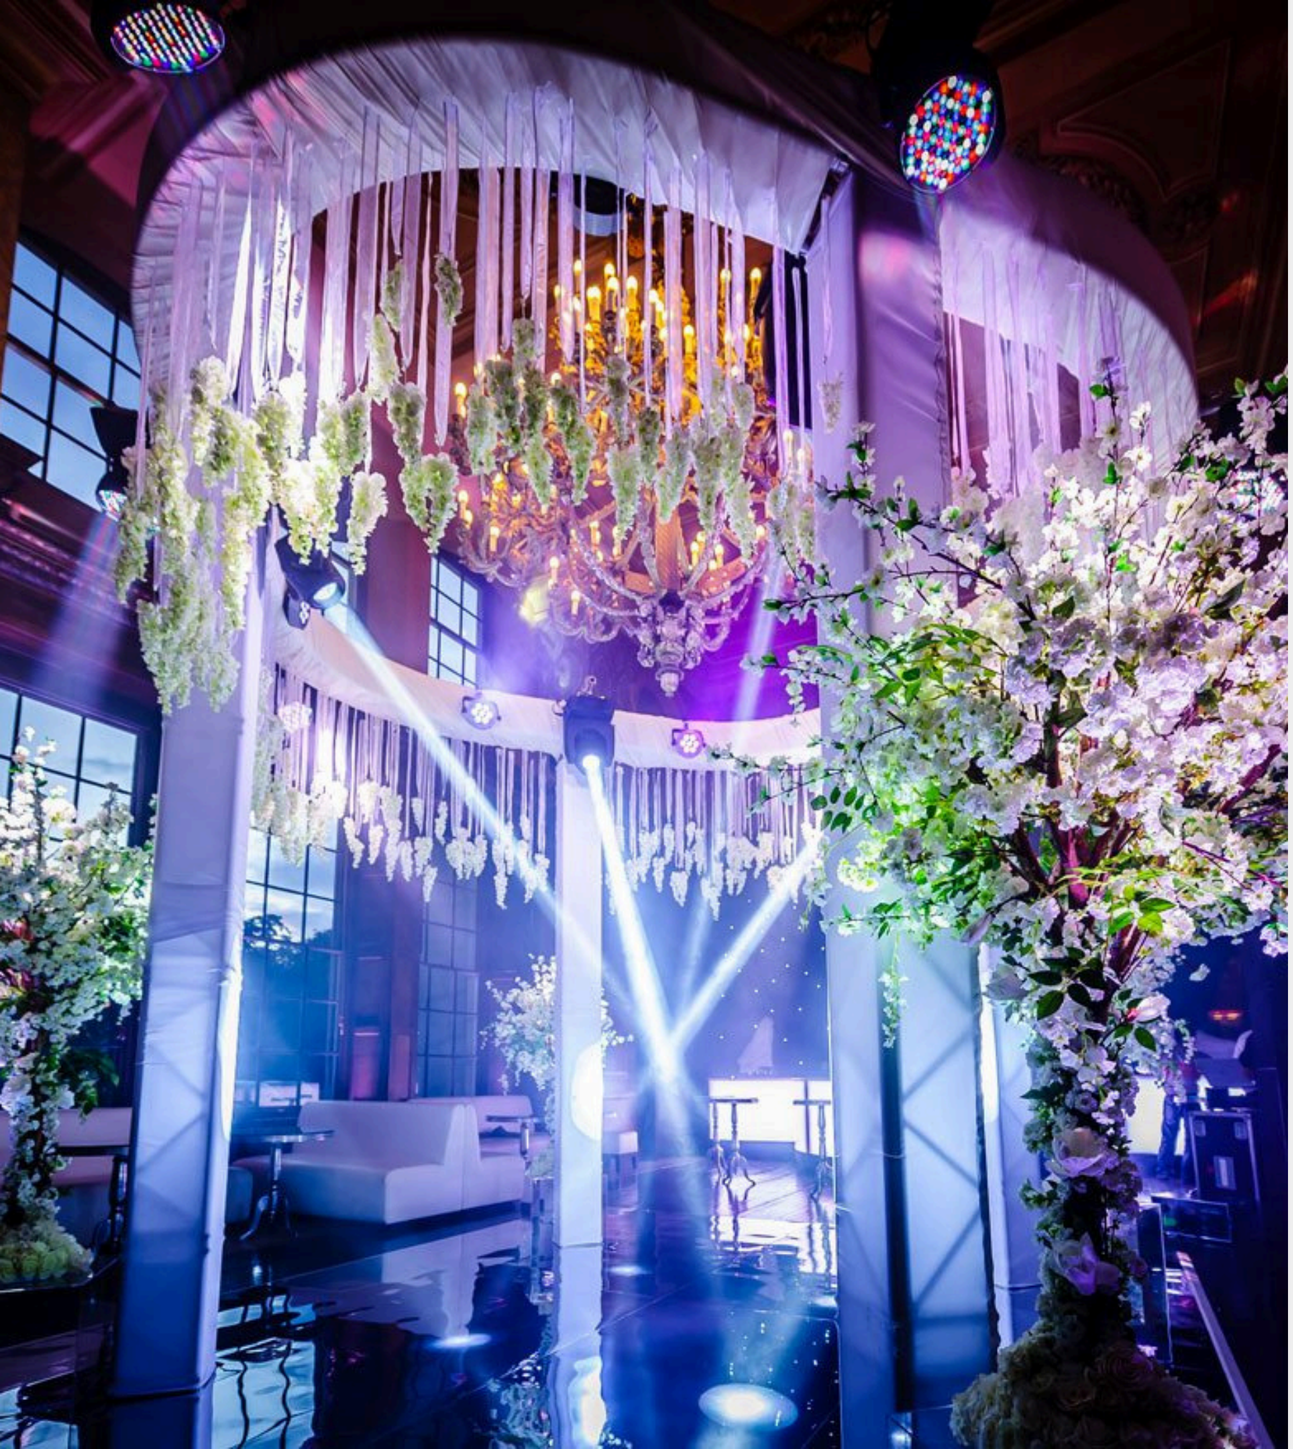

CHRISTMAS AT THE PALACE

A distinguished setting for festive events

Celebrate the season within a series of elegant spaces at Addington Palace. The Great Hall offers impressive scale for dining, while adjoining rooms provide space for drinks receptions, dancing and evening celebrations, with a natural flow between each part of the Palace. Whether hosting a formal event or a more relaxed gathering, each setting supports a memorable experience for guests throughout the festive season.

BRAND & IMMERSIVE EVENTS

A suite of versatile spaces for creative events

From product launches in the Morning Room to brand activations across the Great Hall, every part of the Palace can be adapted to suit your brief. Guests can move through adjoining reception rooms as the event unfolds. Each space offers its own scale and atmosphere, supporting a seamless flow between presentations, networking and interaction throughout the experience.

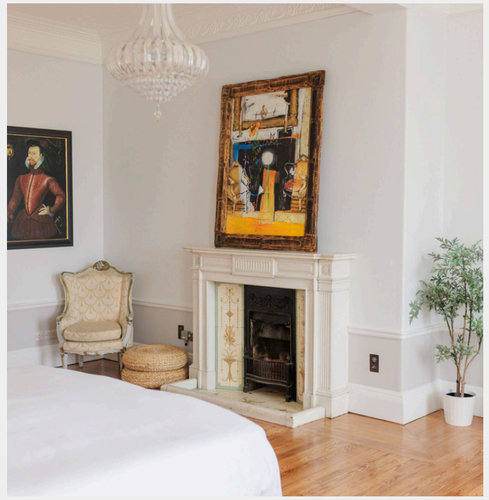

MEETINGS & CONFERENCES

Spaces designed for focused and flexible events

The Palace offers a range of rooms suited to meetings, conferences and corporate gatherings. From the Great Hall for larger presentations to smaller rooms for breakout sessions, each space supports a structured and professional environment. With a natural flow between rooms and across the main Palace, it provides a setting suited to both formal meetings and full-day corporate events.

A PLACE TO REST YOUR HEAD

A selection of rooms are available for event organisers and guests

Master Suite | Sleeps 2 | 1 Double Bedroom | 2 Bathrooms | Walk-In Wardrobe | Powder Room

Palace Bedrooms | Sleeps 4 | 2 Additional Guest Rooms

Longley House | Sleeps 12 | 6 Double Bedrooms | 2 Bathrooms | Moments from the main house

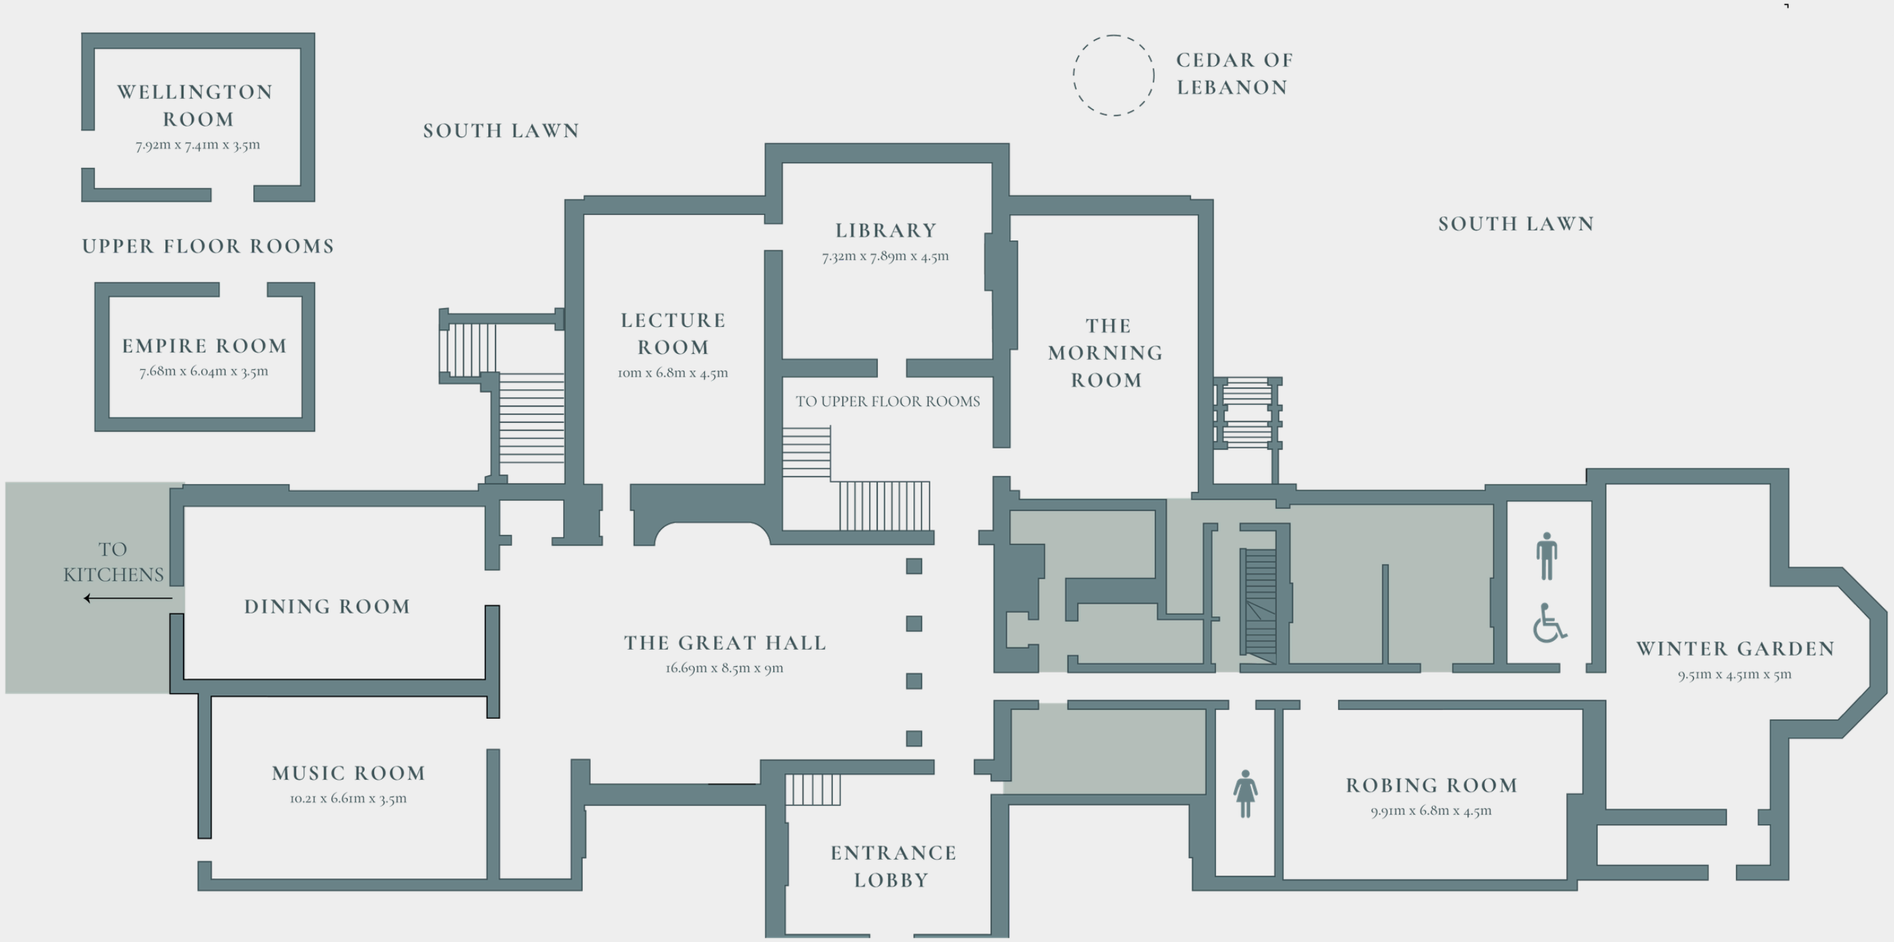

FURTHER ACCOMMODATION

Extend your stay within the estate

For guests not staying within the Palace itself, a few self-contained cottages are available across the grounds. Each one is thoughtfully furnished, offering a private place to retreat as the event day winds down.

Perfect for colleagues or members of the attending group, these peaceful residences allow guests to stay nearby. The experience ends as smoothly as it began.
